PROGRESS

Progress is the watchword of the times—to those in the foothills, to those in the middle plains and to those steadily rising toward the ultimate heights beyond. Progress is the watchword of youth, of middle life, of all, in fact, but age with the race nearly run. When we cease to progress we may know our star is in the descendency.

Youth is the time of greatest opportunity. It is only as we are mellowed by the years that we have time to think overmuch on past achievements. Youth is a time of happy hearts and care-free days; later years bring reflection and sometimes regret, over wasted youth. Youth goes merrily on singing songs with a musical lilt, whatever the wording. Old age cares not for the beauty of phrasing, if the poem or music but quiet and soothe the restless spirit. Youth sees the world as a wonderland of experience—new and novel and exciting. Old age knows life as a hard taskmaster. To it life has also shown the hidden paths to be avoided, the pitfalls, the fanged jaws. It has shown, as well, scenes made sacred by discipline, by hard work, by sorrow, perhaps. Youth has all to gain; age has naught to lose.

And so, just in proportion to our ambition to progress, do opportunities of a new and larger life open to us. We may have talent, but talent is only the hard, cold instrument; if we progress we must also have genius—a genius that drives us to a labor that achieves something, a genius that impels the instrument in our hand to do its best, its very best, with every effort, that the results may “ring true.”

But the years come and go. Mayhap the old year slipped away with little done; the new year comes and with it comes, too, to young or old a new determination—a will to do, a buoyancy of spirit that incites within us the cheerful hope of progress toward realization. And thus we live our lives as men ever have lived them, as they ever will live them, always with the soul yearning for more “stately mansions.”

Those nations that have become the bulwark of civilization are not the ones that cling to ancient manners and customs. Those cities that take giant strides forward are not the ones that wait quietly for Progress to knock at the outer gates. There must be alertness to assimilate all that would tend to upbuild and increase efficiency. So in the business world—in stores and factories. So in the professions—doctors, lawyers—ALL must be on the alert to progress, to better themselves for service.

And so even in schools. No school can progress and stand, marking time, in the same circle. There must be a forward movement with concerted action all along the line. And Charlotte schools have felt this impulse. The fine, new building is a monument to the people of the city who put the needs of their children above mercenary motives; to the school board who furthered the movement, and to all others who labored to bring this beautiful building to its triumphant fruition. It is indeed an incentive for both pupils and teachers toward the best in all respects—the best in harmony of spirit, the best in united effort, and the best in results accomplished. And, always, the one who “does his best” has a passport, sealed with a royal signet, to enter successfully some worthy field of endeavor.

C. H. CARRICK.

The Delphian Board, in behalf of the Class of 1915, wishes to express its thanks to the business men, and especially to the Booster Club, whose sanction and support made our “Delphian” possible. During the past year the business men agreed to boycott all advertising schemes which in their opinion did not bring immediate returns. One thing, however, they sanctioned, and that was the “Delphian.” Had the business men withdrawn their support, the “Delphian” would have been a failure, as the advertisements, to a great extent, pay the expenses of publishing the book. This shows that the Charlotte business men stand with us and with the school. Surely, the least we can do to show our appreciation for their kindness is to do our best to help them, to give them our patronage.

J. B. W.

During the past year an Alumni Association has been organized, with a large membership. This is indeed a step forward in the promotion of school spirit. On April 16, last, the first annual banquet of the new organization was held at the Masonic Temple, and surely nothing could have been a more complete success. “Old grads” gathered from all parts of the country, from east and west, north and south. Our sincerest wish is that the organization may live for years to come and that graduates of the future will take their places in the ranks and help carry on the good work.

J. B. W.

"TRADE IN CHARLOTTE"

The Delphian Board of the Class of 1915, in presenting this "Delphian" to you, hope they are living up to all expectations and are publishing a book which may favorably stand all comparisons with its predecessors. The growth of the High School has caused the Board to put forth every effort that this year's book might keep even with the pace. We, the members of the Class of 1915, hope that our "Delphian" may stand as a memorial of our four years' work and pleasure in old Charlotte High, and believe that in years to come, as we look through its pages, many happy hours may be recalled to the minds of all of us.

CLASS SONG 1915

Tune—The Orange and the Black

When the dew of dawn is dripping, on the flowers, in nature's hour,
When the ruby morn awakens to light earth's fairy bower,
Then it is we dream of mornings, when we woke with spirits light;
For the light of dawn we'd chosen, in the Searlet and the White.

Through many trials and triumphs, we've borne this flag of truee,
In striving always higher, to reach the noblest truth.
Even now our greatest effort, intertwined with prayer and tear
Is fully now completed in our Alma Mater dear.

In the future dawn of morrow, when we strive for higher goals,
Will we e'er forget our motto, or the white and crimson folds?
We'll sing "Esse quam videri," and shout for Charlotte High.
Ever forward, onward, upward, for our goal is in the sky.

Thanking God who gave all merey, and love shown in June flowers,
We leave thee, Alma Mater, with the blessing for the hours
Which we spent in scenes around thee, in joys as yet untold;
With memories so enehanted that they never will grow old.

A FOREIGN TRIP AT HOME

It is generally agreed that travel is the great edueator, and an increasing number of our people every year are seeking this means of instruction and recreation. Europe is at present elosed to the tourist, but fortunately the delights of a foreign trip are still open to us, for a railroad journey of but a few hours will take us to a country where the Union Jack floats in the breeze and where the people's slogan is, "God Save the King."

If we make Toronto our first stop in this alien country, we receive its foreign atmosphere gradually, for this city has a large number of American residents, and to the casual observer does not differ materially from American cities of the same size. However, many of its people speak with a peculiar English aecent. The American visitor does not fail to notiee the rubber tired victorias in the streets and also the straps passing under the lower lip which are attached to the policemen's helmets. Even the oatmeal with which we are familiar becomes "porridge" after it crosses the line.

Toronto is a beautiful and busy city, with a water frontage on Lake Ontario. It has many beautiful parks and splendid public buildings, and the fine spirit of its people is well symbolized by the motto which hangs in the office of one of its principal hotels—"Life is never so short but that there is always time for courtesy."

We board the steamer at six o'clock for the trip across Lake Ontario and awake the following morning to find ourselves at Kingston, the West Point of Canada, and thence pass out into the waters of the majestic St. Lawrence, named by Jacques Cartier in honor of his patron saint. Soon the first of The Thousand Islands, with their charming summer homes, begin to appear and pass in rapid succession until nearly noon, when we change our steamer for one built to run the rapids, which break the smoothness of the river's course to Montreal. "Shooting the rapids" is no doubt a difficult feat of navigation for the ship's pilot, but for her passengers it is no such thrilling and terrifying experience as we had expected to encounter. The rapids seem much like the white caps on the lakes; but in the last, or Lachine Rapids, the dangerous rocks are more visible; however, these are soon passed and we glide under the arches of the majestic Victoria bridge, into the harbor of Montreal.

Montreal is more foreign than Toronto because of its larger French population, and it is rich in memories of the olden days when the banner of the Fleur de Lis floated over New France. Yet it is a British city also, and its splendid public buildings, especially its banks, look as solid and enduring as the British empire.

Montreal has been called the "City of Churches," and contains, some fine specimens of ecclesiastical architecture, among the best being Christ church, Episcopal, St. James, Roman Catholic, built after St. Peter's, and Notre Dame, also Roman Catholic, a copy of the famous Notre Dame in Paris. We experience a real thrill when we enter the portals of Notre Dame and stand within its magnificent interior, with a seating capacity of ten thousand, and we are impelled to even bow our heads in the spirit of reverence which great churches have inspired in the souls of men throughout the ages.

Back of the city lies Mount Royal, from which Cartier viewed the country when he gave the settlement its name. This elevation is now a beautiful mountain park with a winding drive of nine miles to its summit. For the sum of one dollar you may traverse this path in one of the supremely comfortable victorias, with coachman attached, and feel for a couple of hours like a pampered member of the British aristocracy, or if you are beset by the American love of haste you may reach the summit by the much shorter and less idyllic route—the elevator.

From Prospect Point you look down seven hundred and fifty feet upon the city and the harbor. On a clear day the hills of Vermont are visible.

We leave Montreal in the early evening and proceed eastward through the level and peaceful country now glorified by the roseate colors of the setting sun, reminding one of the land of Evangeline. If the traveler is not held up in a river mist he reaches Quebec in time for breakfast, if he is so detained he reaches it a little late for dinner, as we do.

However, as we drive up the narrow, hilly, cobbled streets to our hotel we feel fully compensated for any delay for, although Quebec has many features of a modern city, yet the atmosphere of the old French regime still clings about it like the odor of lavender in old lace.

Quebec, the "Gibraltar of the New World," and the only walled city on this continent, has an unsurpassed location overlooking the St. Lawrence.

It consists of an Upper and Lower Town with a grade of about two hundred feet between. Crowning the heights of the Upper Town stands the magnificent Canadian Pacific Hotel, Chateau Frontenac, built in the semblance of a medieval castle and fitting into the surroundings like a "solitaire in a perfect setting."

Before the Chateau runs the wonderful promenade, fourteen hundred feet long, known as the Dufferin Terrace, which is terminated at its eastern end by the beautiful statue of Samuel De Champlain. He stands there with his mantle over his arm and his plumed hat in his hand, saluting, like the true cavalier that he was, the Canadian soil. As we sit upon the Dufferin Terrace after nightfall, with Lower Town and the river beneath us, the lights twinkle in the town of Levis opposite, the Quebec-Levis ferry boat, far below us, crawls like a huge glow worm back and forth. The gay crowds pass by in a never ending procession, and the strains of music from the Chateau orchestra float to our ears.

Back of the Chateau looms up the Citadel, or fortress, with its frowning guns, garrisoned by a contingent of Canadian soldiery.

The churches of Quebec, though not magnificent, like those of Montreal, are equally interesting. There is the English cathedral, with its exquisite chancel window, one of the finest pieces of stained glass on this continent; the church of Notre Dame de Victoires, built in 1682, the Franciscan church, and many others. The Franciscan church has in connection a bazaar for the sale of the art and needle work done by the deft fingers of the sisters of the order, and the younger sisters themselves in their garb of white wool, hood of white satin, and ivory crucifix, are fit subjects for the artistic brush.

The city fairly reeks with historic associations. We drive out to the Plains of Abraham, where the great battle was fought between Montcalm and Wolfe for the possession of a continent. We see the old house where Montcalm had his headquarters and the house which was the residence of the Duke of Kent, Queen Victoria's father, during his sojourn in Canada. Nor is our own history forgotten, for we are shown the spot where Montgomery fell and the house to which the wounded Benedict Arnold was taken after the ill fated American attack upon Quebec in 1775.

There are many quaint old houses and narrow streets to claim our attention. We may drive about in one of the vehicles of the olden days, the Caleche, which is a two wheeled affair painted green, with white wheels, having a seat for the driver in front and is reported to have a motion resembling that of a roller coaster. The gateways, also, which open out of the city walls, are interesting, especially the beautiful St. Louis gate, erected by Lord Dufferin in 1873.

All public signs in Quebec are written both in English and French, and we find that many of the people of the Province of Quebec speak no English at all. The ragged urchins who eall the papers on the Terrace pronounce the French nasals with a facility that excites our admiration and envy, and even the Spearmint signs advise us in French to "Chew it after every meal" in the same old way as they did at home.

Time forbids to tell of the charms of a trip to Montmorency Falls or to the village and church of St. Ann de Beaupre, where many miraculous cures are performed every year and where we see a sight unique in America, the Scala Sancta or Sacred Stairs. These devout pilgrims ascend on their knees telling their beads on every step, in remembrance of the fact that Christ ascended the steps before Pilate.

Quebec is the termination of our journey and our story, and we return home feeling that "Not any view that nature presents for the human contemplation and admiration can surpass the matchless beauty, the scene from Old Quebec."

Lillian E. Howard.

AMATEUR PICTURE FRAMING

"What in the world is the matter with you, Brown?" asked Smith, as they stood waiting for a car. Brown had five or six fingers fantastically enveloped in rags, and wore an expression of deepest despondency.

"Matter!" growled the victim. "Don't you see these fingers? How would you like yours wrapped up like that? Or do you suppose I did it to be picturesque?"

The car came along just then, and no more was said until each found a seat.

"Did you ever hear of passe-partout frames?" inquired Brown, wrathfully. "No? Neither did I until yesterday. You know my wife went to Europe last summer and brought back with her the worst looking lot of photos you ever saw. She said they were 'old masters.' They sure were ugly enough to be anything. She wanted them framed for the parlor and read in one of those home magazines how pictures could be framed for less than nothing. When I came home last night, there she was in the midst of it. She had apparently bought out a glass shop and was cutting up window panes with her diamond ring. Say—you'd ought'er seen that ring this morning. Well, I managed to cut half of my fingers helping her; but that wouldn't stop her. What will stop a woman any way, when she gets hold of a new fad? She had some strips of paper and she stuck them around the edges of the glass and the photographs. That was to hold them together, you see. Of course they were crooked, but she didn't seem to mind that.

About ten o'clock she had every one of those old masters glued to a piece of glass and nothing would do but she must hang them at once, that very night. They covered the walls all right, but they were the wildest looking lot of pictures you ever set your eyes on. After that she condescended to tie up my mutilated fingers and we went to bed. Well, some time in the wee hours of the morning there was a most awful crash. For a moment I thought I was in a railway accident, but Jane woke up and vowed it was burglars. I told her that they certainly were the noisiest lot of burglars I had ever heard, but I got up and lit the gas, and just then there was another crash, which seemed to come from the parlor. I took a candle and started. Jane grabbed my arm, swearing we would die together.

Every one of those confounded pictures had fallen down! Smashed? Why, man alive, of course they were. But that isn't the worst though, for one of them had knocked off the mantle the old Creman plate my wife's Aunt Isabel gave her for a wedding present, and that was smashed, too. It can't be mended and Jane is in a fine state! Seems the plate was sort of an heirloom; been in the family for years and my wife doesn't dare tell her aunt it is broken. Just our luck, she's coming to visit us next week, too, and Jane is trying to find another one like it. Do you know what those things cost? You needn't grin like an idiot. It would have been cheaper to have had those pictures framed at the most expensive place in town. I shall see that no more of the magazines with their economical household hints come into my house again or I'll be bankrupt sure," and Brown left the car with an air of determination.

DECLAMATORY AND ORATORICAL CONTEST

The local Declamatory and Oratorical contest was held in the High School auditorium on Wednesday evening, March seventeenth. A crowd of over two hundred turned out for the occasion to back their representatives. This was the first entertainment, aside from the public opening, to be held in the new auditorium.

The contest was a close one, especially in the declamatory, as there were but two contestants entered in oratory. After the program was completed, the judges, Miss Cynthia Green, Judge L. J. Dann and John C. Nichols, gave the following decision:

Declamatory—Mildred Jordan, first; Stanley Chase, second; Harold Jones, third.

Oratory—Julius Wood, first; Merriek Dean, second.

SUB-DISTRICT ORATORICAL-DECLAMATORY CONTEST

Held at Grand Ledge, Michigan, April 9, 1915

Charlotte High School certainly achieved a signal victory this year at the Sub-District contest, which was held at Grand Ledge, through its representatives, Mildred Jordan and Julius Wood. Lansing, Albion, Grand Ledge and Marshall high schools were each represented by a declaimer and an orator, but Charlotte could not be denied, and carried off the honors by a wide margin.

In the declamatory contest Charlotte's representative, Miss Jordan, was defeated by Miss Marjorie Thomson, of Albion, by the close margin of one point. In spite of the fact that Miss Jordan was so unfortunate as to draw the first place on the program in the contest. her masterful effort made a lasting impression on the minds of the judges, and it took considerable time to decide whether Miss Thomson or Miss Jordan should be given first place.

The victory of Julius Wood, of Charlotte, in oratory, was little short of remarkable. Each of the three judges on delivery gave Mr. Wood first place. Of the three judges on thought and composition, two gave him first place, and the other, second place. So that, of a possible six firsts, Mr. Wood won five. Well may Charlotte High boast of such a victory—a victory so decisive that it establishes a record for this school and one that invites comparison with any high school of the state.

The judges at the contest were as follows:

Delivery

Superintendent Buck, of St. Johns.
Superintendent Forsythe, of Ionia.

TO MICHIGAN

O Michigan, with fields of green and gold,
With streams and lakes like silver mirrors bright,
With birds that sing of all the earth's delight,
With beauty that not yet has half been told;
O Michigan, a land of fruit and grain,
From Erie to thy farthest copper mine,
A land of maple and of singing pine,
A "hand" with all the gifts it can contain;
On three sides kissed by waters pure, unbound,
Which join to form a highway to the sea;
No sister state has transit half so free.
In summer thou dost don thy brightest gown,
In winter all thy garments are of white,
In spring thou sowest, in fall dost reap delight.

EDWIN SANTEE, '15.

NIGHT

(Virgil IV., 522-529)

Majestic night breathed o'er the earth her mystic spell.
And weary mortals with sleep's balm were quite instilled.
Calm were the whispering woodlands and the raging seas by her fair spell ensnared,
While all the starry watches of the night rolled on serene;
Hushed lay the fields in the soft midnight air,
So, too, with beasts and gay-plumed birds who haunt deep limpid pools
Or thicket tangled glens; soothed were their cares
Under the silent night, and peace, calm peace, possessed their hearts.

VALEDICTORIAN

Our Valedictorian, Miss Ariel Van Vleet, completed her High School course with the very high average of 96.7 per cent. for her four years' work. Miss Van Vleet has been a very careful and conscientious student and has at all times excelled in her class work. The members of the Class of 1915 congratulate her upon her success, and themselves upon having her as a classmate.

SENATE

Another successful year of the High School Senate has passed into history. Owing to the good attendance of the Senators, caused by various measures adopted for that purpose, much was accomplished during the session. Numerous bills were introduced, some being passed, others defeated. Senator Roosa's bill relative to State Wide Prohibition, Senator Cobb's bill relative to Protection of Michigan Forests, and Senator Wood's bill relative to Sunday Picture Shows caused a good deal of sharp debating and some hard fights on the floor, which were beneficial to all. All Senators worked hard and conscientiously and without a doubt this session raised the standard of this organization to a higher level.

The first meeting was held early in December, at which time new members and the following officers were elected:

President—William P. Smith.
 Vice President—Cyril A. Turo.
 Secretary-Treasurer—Clifford Dernier.
 Assistant Secretary-Treasurer—Merle D. Jones.
 Sergeant-at-Arms—Fisk Bangs.
 Assistant Sergeant-at-Arms—Caryl Prindle.

The following is the list of bills and petitions introduced during the session of 1914-1915:

- Bill No. 1—Relative to State Wide Prohibition, introduced by Senator Roosa, of the 16th, passed.
- Bill No. 2—Relative to the Protection of Michigan Forests, introduced by Senator Cobb, of the 8th, passed.
- Bill No. 3—Relative to use of Block System on non-interstate Trunk Lines, introduced by Senator Greenfield, of the 28th, passed.
- Bill No. 4—Relative to Sunday Motion Picture Shows, introduced by Senator Wood, of the 26th, passed.
- Bill No. 5—Relative to Illumination of Vehicles, introduced by Senator Waddell, of the 18th, passed.
- Bill No. 6—Relative to Condition of Sidewalks, introduced by Senators Tower, of the 23rd, and McIntyre, of the 29th, defeated.
- Bill No. 7—Relative to Compulsory Spraying of Fruit Trees, introduced by Senators Greenman, of the 1st; McConnell, of the 2nd; Clark, of the 30th, and Loueks, of the 12th, passed.
- Bill No. 8—Relative to Game Laws, introduced by Senators Bangs, of the 9th; Turo, of the 14th, and Mott, of the 17th, tabled.

- Petition No. 1—Relative to Introduction of Bills into the Senate, introduced by Senator Clark, of the 30th, passed.
- Petition No. 2—Relative to Date of Assembly of Senate, introduced by Senator Mikesell, of the 15th, passed.
- Petition No. 3—Relative to Attendance of Senators, introduced by Senator Bangs, of the 9th, passed.
- Petition No. 4—Relative to Providing Senators with Copies of Bills and Petitions, introduced by Senator Mikesell, of the 15th, passed.
- Petition No. 5—To Repeal Petition No. 3, introduced by Senator Blasier, of the 6th, lost.
- Petition No. 6—To Repeal Petition No. 4, introduced by Senator Mikesell, of the 15th, passed.
- Petition No. 7—To Establish a Normal School at Bad Axe, Huron County, introduced by Senators Carrick, of the 27th, and Lansborough, of the 22nd, tabled.

HIGH SCHOOL ORCHESTRA

The High School Orchestra re-organized this year under the able leadership of Miss Arendsen. The season has been a great success, the orchestra having played regularly for Chapel and also for the public opening of the new building. One remarkable fact is, that aside from two of the members, the entire orchestra was composed of Freshmen, which means that we may expect good music for several years yet to come. The members are:

Katherine Sattler	Don Spencer
Florence Cole	Harold Clement
Adelaide Hart	William Rogers
Marian Hageman	Vaughn Webber
Alleen Clark	Floyd Parker
Reva Blasier	Percy Young

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB

The Girls' Glee Club was reorganized again this fall and the following officers were elected for the year:

President—Ione Wilber
 Vice President—Margaret Hoedemaker
 Secretary—Katherine Griffith
 Treasurer—Helen Cole

The club felt the loss of many of its old members, but new ones were taken in and under the excellent leadership of Miss Champlin has been a great success. Miss Katherine Sattler was the accompanist.

SOPHOMORE CLASS PARTY

The Sophomores gave an informal party on March fourth in the new gymnasium. The evening was spent in playing games and in listening to selections on the Victrola. Refreshments, in boxes artistically wrapped in the class colors, were provided by the girls, and were sold at auction to the boys. By this means a neat little sum was realized for the class treasury.

SENIOR HALLOWE'EN PARTY

The Seniors were entertained by Miss Myrtle Hill at her home on the evening of October 28. The party was a masquerade and all had a jolly time. The decorations and refreshments were well in keeping with the occasion.

BOYS' GLEE CLUB

Until within the past year the boys of the High School had been sadly neglected along the lines of music. However, after much agitation of the question on the part of Mr. Carrick and a few boys, a meeting was held early in December, at which time officers were elected and a constitution drawn up for the Boys' Glee Club. A chorus of about forty voices was formed from the boys of all four classes, under the leadership of Miss Champlin. The success of the organization was surprising and without a doubt the Boys' Glee Club has come to stay. The following were the officers:

President—Julius B. Wood

Vice President—Paul E. Carrick

Secretary and Treasurer—Clifford McIntyre

FRESHMAN CLASS PARTY

The first Freshman party of the year was held at Percy Young's home, in Carmel township. The members of the class were taken out to the Young home in automobiles. During the evening games were played and refreshments served. All had a most delightful time.

FRESHMAN CHRISTMAS PARTY

In December the Freshman class held a party at Grange hall. Tableaux, representing the different forms of athletics in the school, were presented, but the most enjoyable part of the program was the Faculty Meeting, given by members of the class. Refreshments were served and a very pleasant evening was enjoyed by all.

JUNIOR-SENIOR BANQUET

Over one hundred guests were present at the annual Junior-Senior banquet, held at the Masonic Temple on June sixteenth. The nineteen fourteen affair somewhat surpassed those of former years, both in the lavish entertainment provided by the ample returns from the Junior benefit play and in the large number entertained. The decorative scheme was beautifully carried out in the class colors, of purple and white.

An elegant three course dinner was served at six o'clock by the ladies of the Eastern Star. The menu was as follows:

Strawberries		Rosettes
Italian Croquettes		Creamed New Potatoes
Peas
Celery	Radishes	Pickles	Olives
	Rolls	Coffee
Cake	Strawberry Ice		Mints

After dinner A. W. Lynch, as toastmaster, called upon members of the Faculty and the Student Body for toasts. They responded in this order:

Welcome	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	Fisk Bangs
Response	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	Fern Walter
Alpha and Omega	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	Lillian Howard
Faculty	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	Dean Spitler
Seniors	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	Grace Fox
The Sun God	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	Consello Cole
Junior Boys	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	Helen Hageman
Classes of '14-'15	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	Julius Wood

After the speeches the Olivet College Glee Club entertained the company with several excellent selections by their quartet, and by several readings, which were very cleverly given. All claimed that this was one of the best attractions ever put on at a Junior-Senior banquet.

RECEPTION FOR FACULTY AND STUDENTS

The first social event of the school year was the reception tendered the faculty and students of the High School by the young people of the M. E. church. The church parlors were prettily decorated for the occasion. A short but delightful program was rendered. Ice cream and cake were served and all spent a most enjoyable evening.

SENATE BANQUET

The annual Senate banquet was held at Crout's cafe Wednesday evening, May 20, 1914. The dining room was very prettily decorated for the occasion. An elegant four course dinner was served to about thirty-five starving Senators and guests of honor, the chief one of whom was State Senator Wm. M. Smith, of St. Johns, who gave the principal address of the evening. Superintendent Carriek acted as toastmaster and, aside from Senator Smith, called upon President Lewis Dolson, of the Senate, Rev. H. K. Freeman, and County Secretary E. C. Hobart, of the Y. M. C. A., for speeches. The following menu was served:

Grape Punch		Wafers
<hr/>
Fried Spring Chicken with Chestnut Dressing
Creamed Potatoes		Giblet Sauce
<hr/>
Lettuce with Mayonnaise Dressing
French Peas		Escalloped Corn
<hr/>
Graham and White Bread
<hr/>
Tea	Coffee	Milk	Chocolate
Strawberry Shortcake with Whipped Cream
Brick Ice Cream		Wafers

SOPHOMORE PURITAN PARTY

On November twentieth a Puritan party was given by the members of the Sophomore class. The participants were attired in Puritan costumes, and musical selections, recitations and tableaux, appropriate for the season, were given. Two scenes from the "Courtship of Miles Standish" were also presented. The refreshments consisted of baked beans, brown bread, and pumpkin pie, and each member of the class went to his or her home with refreshed memories of the Pilgrim fathers.

FRESHMAN CLASS PARTY

Directly after vacation the Freshmen thought it time again to celebrate and make merry, and what more fitting place could they have chosen than the new gymnasium. Here, then, these diplomats assembled and sought to sweeten the dispositions of their teachers with maple syrup, while they themselves ate pickles. The party was necessarily short as it occurred on a school night, but without a doubt answered the familiar description, "short but sweet."

FOOTBALL BANQUET

On Monday evening, December fourteenth, the Senior girls entertained the boys of the 1914 football team at a banquet given in their honor at the Congregational church. The dining room was decorated with the High School colors, orange and black. An elegant three course dinner was served. After dinner Coach H. H. Killian, as toastmaster, called on the following for impromptu speeches:

Captain Leon Roosa, of the 1914 squad, County Secretary E. C. Hobart, Superintendent C. H. Carrick, Miss Van Kleek, and Fisk Bangs, the manager.

Clifford McIntyre was then elected to lead the team of 1915 as captain. This was excellent choice, and we all may rest assured that "Mac." will pilot the boys to their share of victories next year.

The following menu was served:

Bouillon		Croutons
Meat Loaf	French Peas	Mashed Potatoes
	Rolls
Pickles		Olives
Ice Cream	Cake	Coffee

"MISS CHERRYBLOSSOM"

In order that the Juniors might have money to banquet the Seniors, the annual Junior play was given at the Thomas opera house January 15 and 16. The production, "Miss Cherryblossom," a very pretty little Japanese musical comedy, was a great success, being one of the prettiest and cleverest plays ever given before a Charlotte audience. Mr. John Dodge, of Ypsilanti, took the leading role. Miss Ione Wilber, as Miss Cherryblossom, Paul Carrick, as Kokomo, her foster-father, Julius Wood, as Togo, a politician, and Caryl Prindle, as Harry Jones, scored the hits in the play.

Cast of Characters

Cherryblossom, brought up as the daughter of Kokomo, in reality Evelyn Barnes, of New York - Ione Wilber
 Kokomo, proprietor of a tea garden in Tokio - Paul Carrick
 John Henry Smith, a New Yorker on a visit to Japan -

ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

The Athletic Association held its annual meeting about the last of September for the election of officers and to transact any business that should come before it. About 175 students signed the pledges, which was the largest list in the history of the school. The following officers were chosen:

President—Fisk Bangs
Vice President—Julius Wood
Secretary—Margaret Hoedemaker
Treasurer—J. F. Pinnock

Board of Control—Leon Roosa, Margaret Spaulding and William Smith.

BOOST, BOYS, BOOST!

“Boost, and the school boosts with you,
Knock, and you’re on the shelf;
For the school gets sick of the one with a kick
And wishes he’d kick himself.

Boost when you’re a ‘Fresh’ or ‘Sophie,’
Boost as a Junior should;
Don’t make such a roar about that bad score,
Jump into the game and make good.

So boost for the school’s advancement,
Keep ‘hep’ all along the line;
For the Senior that’s found on the topmost round
Is a booster every time.”

FOOTBALL

The football season of 1914 was one of the most successful in every way that the school has had in several years. The team was admitted by all to be the best one to represent Charlotte since the dear old days of Brouse, Bishop, Wisner & Co. Twelve games were played, six of them being victories for the locals. The scores of the opponents’ victories, with the exception of the Mason game, were small. In the twelve games our boys piled up a total of 235 points to their opponents’ total of 92.

All disgrace ever brought about by our several defeats at the hands of the former Eaton Rapids aggregation of elderly gentlemen has been wiped out. Eaton Rapids was decisively beaten by us in the two games of the season, our points totaling 155 to their 0.

Captain Roosa ran the team to perfection and worked with the boys like an old head. His principal stars were: H. Smith, Sowers, Horn and Carriek, yet they were hard pressed by the others for these honors. Although Carriek was a wee bit small, he was one of the best quarters in the history of the school. Smith and Sowers were the heroes of the backfield, while Horn was "IT" on the line. Nine of the old men will not be back next year, but at the same time a strong team should be built up around the veterans who will return to carry the colors of our High School on to victory in all future contests.

The first game of the season was played on the 21st of September, with Eaton Rapids here as the attraction. Our boys more than made up for every defeat they ever received or ever will receive at the hands of the representatives of that town as far as athletics are concerned. When the whistle finally ended the slaughter, the score stood something like 102 to 0 in our favor. Sowers starred for the locals, getting in all eight touchdowns. Our fellows played with a snap and skill which foretold their successful season. Score:

C. H. S. ....	102
E. R. H. S. ....	0

On Wednesday, October 14, Hastings journeyed down here for its annual defeat at the hands of our boys. The final score was 38 to 0 in our favor. Sowers with his end runs and H. Smith with his line plunges were the features of the game. At first the Barry county boys put up a good game, but after the first quarter they were never in danger of scoring. Score:

C. H. S. ....	38
Hastings ....	0

The third game of our schedule was played at Hastings on Wednesday, October 21, our team winning as usual, score 19 to 0. Our boys played a good fast game from start to finish, but for some mysterious reason they were unable to pile up their usual large score. Score:

C. H. S. ....	19
Hastings ....	0

Eaton Rapids at Eaton Rapids was the next one, and try as they might our boys could only make 53 points, the battle ending with the score of 53 to 0, Charlotte on the big end of the bargain. H. Smith, Roosa, Sowers and Carriek were the principal ones who tried to make things interesting for all, all of these promising young men making some spectacular play during some stage of the game. All former disgracees from all former defeats at the hands of our old rivals has forever been stamped out after our totaling 155 points to their 0 in the two annual clashes on the "gridiron." Score:

DELPHIAN, 'FIFTEEN

C. H. S. ....53
E. R. H. S. .... 0

On Saturday, October 31, our boys journeyed to Grand Ledge, where they were defeated by a score of 7 to 6. Though beaten by a very narrow margin, our boys nevertheless outplayed their opponents in every branch of the game. Grand Ledge scored their touch-down on a fluke play. Sowers, Horn and "Rose" were the stars of this contest. Score:

C. H. S. ....6
G. L. H. S. ....7

Youth can always overcome age. On Wednesday, November 4, the high school boys beat the heroes of old in one of the fastest games ever played on the local field. The final score was 6 to 0. Our boys started out strong, determined to sweep the Alumni off their feet. In the first quarter Smith broke through the line and blocked a punt, which he recovered and crossed the line for the only touch-down of the game. In the last quarter the Alumni carried the ball three times to within from three to five yards of the high's line, but each time they were held for downs. H. Smith was the bright and shining light of this game for our huskies, while "Ike" Frace made the best showing for the old boys. Score:

C. H. S. ....6
Alumni .....0

On November seventh the bunch journeyed to Marshall, where they were defeated in a hot scrap by the score of 7 to 0. One thing that our boys could not help but notice, and which was largely the cause of their defeat, was the support which the students gave their school and their team. Smith and Sowers equally divided all honors. Score:

C. H. S. ....0
Marshall .....7

The return game the following Saturday with Marshall was played on our field. This was one of the most exciting games ever played on the local field, our boys winning by a score of 12 to 0. At one time Marshall was within two feet of our line, but was held there for downs. This was the only time our boys were in any danger of being scored on. Smith recovered a fumble by Marshall's quarter, crossing the line for a touch-down. At another time our boys carried the ball to the line where Carrick went over for another touch-down. Score:

C. H. S. ....12
Marshall .....0

DELPHIAN, 'FIFTEEN

On Wednesday, November eighteenth, Grand Ledge came here and beat our boys by a score of 7 to 0, which was a great surprise to all of us. Several shady decisions on the part of the referee and cold weather may be called partly responsible for our defeat. Grand Ledge scored their touch-down on an interecepted pass. In the last quarter our fellows twice fought their way to within eight yards of the line, but were both times held for downs. Score:

C. H. S. ....0
Grand Ledge .....7

The last out-of-town game of the season was played at Albion on November twenty-first, our boys being beaten by a score of 12 to 0. The sting of defeat was in a large measure, lightened by a spread which was given in their honor by the girls of the Albion High School. Both sides were somewhat handicapped by the condition of the field. Score:

C. H. S. .... 0
Albion .....12

The final wind-up of the season was played with the Alumni on Thanksgiving day, the aforesaid "Has beens" winning. Score, 7 to 0. The game was featured with the vicious attempts of each side to do bodily harm to their opponents. Several of the horrid young men were put off the field for the brutal practice of slugging. Score:

C. H. S. ....0
Alumni .....7

Boys

The basket ball season started about December first with a host of candidates out for the various positions. The old men, back from last year's team to return were Francis Youngblood, Marie Seavolt, Smith was elected captain of the new team. The team started on its daily grind under the leadership of Coach Kroodsmas, who worked faithfully with the boys. About the first of February the boys were able to begin work in the new "gym," which was a great help to them in every way. Captain Smith and "Red" Hubbard were the stars of the season, Hubbard gaining quite a wide reputation by his ability to shoot fouls. The boys played a good game, displaying excellent team work at home, although they did not do quite as well in the out-of-town games, as the following scores for the season will indicate:

When the call for candidates for the girls' team was sounded a pretty (large) bunch of them responded. Among the members of last year's team to return were Frances Youngblood, Marie Seavolt, Helen Cole, Belle Perkey and Nema Stoddard. Francis Youngblood was elected captain of the team. Other promising candidates were Ruth Hoedemaker, Myrna Bosworth, Reva Blasier, Margaret Hoedemaker, Florence Cole and Erma Jones. The girls worked hard under the careful coaching of Miss Van Kleek and Miss Mahaney. Miss Youngblood was the star of the team, she making nearly all of the baskets for the entire season. Helen Cole played an excellent game at guard until she was forced to withdraw because of a badly sprained ankle. The girls gave a splendid account of themselves, although they lost several of their games by close scores:

BASE BALL 1915

Baseball prospects look pretty good this year. Leo Bobier, our veteran slab artist, was elected captain of the team, and at present the manager is hard at work to secure a good schedule for the season.

Owing to the poor condition of the diamond the boys got a late start, other teams being in fairly good shape before our team had begun work. This undoubtedly accounts for the two defeats received in the first two games, which were played away from home.

The first game of the season was played at Hastings on April twenty-fourth. Although the team put up a game fight, they were defeated by a score of 11 to 8, caused in all probability by a lack of practice.

The next game was played at Nashville on the twenty-eighth, our boys again losing by a close score of 6 to 5. Bobier pitched a good game, but could not stave off defeat.

On May first Grand Ledge paid us a visit, but found us ready, losing to our boys by a score of 7 to 5. We scored all of our runs in our half of the eighth inning. "Bo" was complete master of the situation, while Grand Ledge was compelled to use three pitchers.

The following is the schedule for the baseball season:

April 24—Hastings at Hastings.

April 28—Nashville at Nashville.

May 1—Grand Ledge at Charlotte.

May 5—Open.

May 8—No game on account of Y. M. C. A. Relay Race.

May 15—Nashville at Charlotte.

May 22—Hastings at Charlotte.

May 26—Eaton Rapids at Eaton Rapids.

May 29—Grand Ledge at Grand Ledge.

June 5—Open.

June 9—Eaton Rapids at Charlotte.

June 12—Open.

1914 COUNTY TRACK MEET

Charlotte's crack track team of last year succeeded in capturing the annual county field meet, which was held at Olivet on May 29, 1914. There was a lively scrap throughout the entire contest for the leadership, but our boys, through the hard efforts of Smith, Borton and McIntyre, were able to pull the meet out of the fire. Our own Smith, and Williams of Eaton Rapids were the only contestants for the all around championship of the meet, Williams finally winning by seven points, having 25 to Smith's 18. Grand Ledge put up a game fight and succeeded in landing third place in the meet, but Olivet and Bellevue had absolutely no chance, the former getting one and the latter four points.

The following are the results of the different events:

120 Yard Hurdles—First, Williams, E. R.; second, McIntyre, C.; third, Sheets, E. R.; fourth, Maupin, E. R. Time—15 1-5 seconds.

Shot Put—First, Borton, C.; second, Foote, G. L.; third, Wilson, B.; fourth, Montague, O. Distance—36' 10¼".

100 Yard Dash—First, Williams, E. R.; second, Greenfield, C.; third Smith, G. L.; fourth, Sheets, E. R. Time—15 seconds.

One Mile Run—First, Smith, C.; second, McCormack, G. L.; third, Ressiguie, G. L.; fourth, Shaw, C. Time—5 :08.

220 Yard Dash—First, Williams, E. R.; second, Smith, G. L.; third Greenfield, C.; fourth, Sheets, E. R. Time—22 2-5 seconds.

High Jump—First, Smith, C.; second, Baumer, E. R.; third, McCormack, G. L.; fourth, Nelson, C. and Puffenberger, E. R. Height 5' 1".

440 Yard Run—First, Williams, E. R.; second, Smith, C.; third, Tower, B.; 4th, Hart, G. L. Time—58 seconds.

Pole Vault—First, Williams, E. R.; second, McIntyre, C.; third, Ressiguie, G. L.; fourth, Snyder, C. and Spencer, G. L. Height 9' 3".

Half Mile Run—First, Smith, C.; second, McCormack, G. L.; third, Ressiguie, G. L.; fourth, Greenman, C. Time—2 :17.

Discus Throw—First, Borton, C.; second, Arthur, E. R.; third, McIntyre, C.; fourth, Maupin, E. R. Distance 94' 9".

Half Mile Relay—Won by Eaton Rapids; Charlotte second.

ELEVEN MILE RELAY

The first annual eleven mile relay race for the Geddes trophy was held in May, 1914, and was won easily by our team. Bellevue was our only opponent as the rest of the would-be contestants withdrew on the eve of the battle. The entire eleven miles were covered in 56 minutes flat, while Bellevue finished about four minutes later. After the race the boys were entertained by the Grange at a banquet held at their hall, where, after all had done nobly by the feast, the cup was presented to the winners by V. G. Griffith. Smith, who finished the race, did his half in 2.21, which was excellent time considering the fact that he ran all of his distance on cement sidewalks. Since only two men of this team, Borton and Rochester, graduated last year

DELPHIAN, 'FIFTEEN

we may well expect to have the cup with us again for another year
The following participated:

McIntyre	Morrow	Densmore	Snyder
Tower	Linsley	Greenman	Nelson
Horn	Nichols	Rochester	Wildern
Borton	Greenfield	Wilmore	Smith
Wood	Shaw	Willetts
Clark	Hahn	Perry

A GIRL'S POINT OF VIEW

"Here's to the football hero grand,
Here's to the boy who will slide for a base,
Here's to the man who a basket can throw,
And the fellow who runs a good race."

WE ARE SORRY BUT (T).

"A goat ate a lot of our jokes,
And then began to pun:
"I can't help it," he softly said,
"I am so full of fun."

PROBLEM IN PHYSICS
(Fussers Law.)

The efficiency of the couple depends upon the length of the arm.

A Freshman Prayer.

"Oh would some power, the gift give us,
To see the Sophs before they see us."

"I led my class in Greek for three successive years."
"That's fine! But wouldn't you much rather have carried the ball sixty-five yards for a touchdown just once?"

"Bob Murray pays as he goes."
"Yes he's a regular stay-at-home."

"How beautifully they dance together."
"Yes. I wonder whose husband her partner is."

Otto Linsley says that if he has to take English III many more years, he will need a new book.

Kilian (In commercial law)—"They might have did that."

Santee—"I talked with a fellow for half an hour and then didn't know what he said."

Sanford—"Was his talk silly?"

Santee—"No, he came from Finland."

Fair but false—A blonde wig.

Rose, (Preparing for an exam.)—"What do you know of the nature of Solid Geometry?"

Dernier—"I know that it's darned hard."

While walking 'round his lot one day
He tripped and the fall jarred;
When getting up we heard him say,
"My, but my lot is hard!"

"Velma," said Clifford, "If I should tell you I was going away tomorrow, would you feel sorry?"

"Tomorrow," she answered, glancing at the clock, "Yes, I would feel sorry—I thought you might go away to-night."

Miss Sanford (Eng. IV.)—"What might spoil a good conversation?"

Wood—"Bashfulness."

Lady (to new clerk)—"Have you Lambs' Tales?"

New Clerk—"No ma'am, this is a book store, not a meat market."

Wood—"Why are you limping so Cy?"

Turo—"Oh I sat down on the spur of the moment."

There once was a young man named Paul
Who kicked up his heels and did call:
"Hurrah for us Seniors and our misdemeanors
For we obey no rules at all!"

There was a young fellow named Wood
Who at studies was never much good,
But when Delphian time came down the line,
They soaked him as hard as they could.

There was a young fellow named Blasier
Who once took a shave with Pa's razor,
To Helen he went, like a regular "gent"
And even his cuts didn't phase her.

There once was a Senior named Murray,
Who never had been known to hurry,
And yet it is said, when Eva he led
His heart would be all in a flurry.

There was a young fellow named "Cy,"
Who was always a wide awake guy,
One night, it is said, he fell out of bed
And mournfully muttered, "Oh my!"

—J. C. W. '17.

Kilian (in commercial law)—"What class of estate does landlord and tenant come under?"

Johnny Clark (wide awake?)—"Real estate."

Caller—"Is your daughter an equestrian?"

Proud Mother—"Either that or valedictorian. These class officers are so confusing, don't you know."

Bill Smith has been unable to attend his classes for several days because of injuries sustained while collecting DEPHIAN "ads."

Just For A Change.

Sweet Young Miss (stopping in middle of the Boston)—"Excuse me, but don't you think you might introduce a little change in your dancing?"

Bob Murray—"Certainly most gladly. May I ask how?"

Sweet Miss—"Well if you don't object, would you mind dancing on my left foot for a while? My right has had about enough."

She Was All Right.

Father—"So you want to marry my daughter, do you? Now what are your prospects?"

Young Man—"Excellent sir, if you don't spoil them."

Freshman Girl—"Well, I have just prescribed for a Delphian."

Bangs—"Provoke me not. I am but a child."

Sowers—"Never do for yourself, what others can do for you."

"Football"

When your foot is on the football
 And your shout is in the air.
 When your chest is full of sweater
 And there's head gear on your hair.
 When your mind is full of signals
 And you're playin' hard the game.
 That is called just common footfall,
 It's a sign that fall "has came."

Stevens (Eng. II.)—"I am thoroughly ashamed of this composition Harold, and I shall certainly send for your mother and tell her how badly you are doing."

H. Jones—"All right send for her. My mother wrote it."

Sanford (Eng. IV.)—"Tell what you know of the life of Poe."

Sowers—"Well, his mother was a great actor."

Hubbard—"My hair will always be red till I dye."

Pinnoek (In Physics)—"A train leaves New York traveling forty miles an hour. Thirty minutes later it is followed by a train traveling eighty miles an hour. At what point will the second train run into the first?"

Bobier (After much thinking)—"At the hind end of the rear car sir."

Guest—"Waiter, is this ox tail soup?"

Waiter (Rose)—"Yes sir."

Guest—"But I just found a tooth in it. How do you account for that?"

Rose—"Well sir, I don't know, but I imagine that ox must have been biting his tail."

Teacher—"James, have you whispered today?"

James—"Yes, ma'am, wunst."

Teacher—"Harold, should James have said wunst?"

Harold—"No Ma'am, he should have said twist."

Sackett (To Bob Tower, who was looking at her)—"What are you looking at, Robert?"

Tower (Absent mindedly as usual)—"Oh nothing."

Dear Miss Van Kleek—

Could you be so kind as to excuse my boy Johnny for not going to school yesterday? The reason is because I wanted to wash his stockings. This won't happen again this year.

Thanks awfully.

Mrs. Densmore.

He Meant Well at That.

"But, Stewart," said Miss Spencer coquettishly, "Will you love me when I grow old and ugly?"

"My dear Miss Spencer," replied Stewart, "you may grow older but you will never grow uglier."

And he wondered why their friendship ceased.

Sanford (Eng. IV.)—"What do you have to have in order to go straight in this world?"

Bangs—"Common sense."

McConnell—"No wonder Bangs is so crooked."

A Definition.

Miss Sanford had written on the board the questions, "What day was yesterday?" and, "What day is today?"

H. Barnes (Eng. 1)—"Yesterday was today yesterday. Today will be yesterday tomorrow."

Carrick—"What would you do if you had a million?"

Wood—"Nothing."

There was a frog sat on a log—

He croaked.

Then drew near, a boy and spear—

He croaked again.

Cross Examined.

Little Willie—"How did you get those red marks on your nose, Uncle Pete?"

Uncle Pete—"Glasses, my boy, glasses."

Little Willie—"Glasses of what, Uncle Pete?"

A traveling man had waited thirty minutes for a slow waiter to bring his dinner.

"Now," he said to the waiter, "Can you bring me some cheese and coffee?"

Johnnie Clark (slow waiter)—"Yes sir, in a minute sir."

"And," continued the diner—"While you are away, you might send me a postal card every now and then."

"You are the first girl I have kissed"—he began passionately.

"Oh, George!" she cried ecstatically.

"—today," said George.

Kroodsma (In Botany)—"Mr. Wilson, can you tell me the difference between annual and biennial plants?"

"Red" Wilson—"Yes sir, annual plants are plant that die once a year, and biennials are those that die twice a year."

Love Laughs.

"Darling," he cried, "I swear by this great tree, whose spreading branches shade us from the heat—by this noble tree I swear that I have never loved before."

The girl faintly smiled. "You always say such appropriate things. Dick," she murmured, "This is a chestnut tree."

A Senior on the Carpet.

"How many subjects are you carrying, Mr. Bobier?"

"Bo"—"Why, I'm carrying one and dragging three."

Father—"Will you promise never to be such a bad boy again if I do not punish you?"

Zeke Littell—"Yes father if you will promise me not to punish me if I am."

"Mr. Rogers" said the teacher, "You may give us a sentence in which the word notwithstanding is correctly used."

Willie—"The man wore his pants out, but notwithstanding."

Sanford (in Eng. IV.)—"What is meant by the 'Last Judgment?'"

Bobier (aside)—"That's what you put in your class book for me after I flunked on your second question."

Some people are paid to be good; but the Freshmen are good for nothing.

"Which bullet do you consider the deadliest?"

"The one that hits."

Sanford (in Eng. IV.)—"What is meant by the 'Last Judgment?'" wrong since they were not created that way?"

Wood—"Women."

He—"How slippery the floor is. It's hard to keep on your feet."

She—"Well really, I wouldn't mind if you did keep off them."

VanKleek—"Es geht mir gut. Please translate."

Bright pupil (Bangs)—"It gets my goat."

Coach Kilian—"Have you taken a shower bath?"

Shupp—"No sir. Is there one missing?"

VanKleek—"Is this your father's signature?"

H. Mott—"As near as I could get it."

He (to servant at the door)—"Is Miss Dimples in?"

Servant—"She's engaged now."

He—"I know it; I'm what she's engaged to."

V. Boyd—"There's something preying on my mind."

W. Smith—"Never mind, it'll soon starve to death."

Brilliant Answers in Commercial Geography.

"Camphor is made by the steeping of the leaves and twigs in water that grows in a tropical country."

Amber comes from the amber bush of tropical countries and is used in the building of ships so it won't corrode the steel."

"Intrinsic value is the whole value."

"Balance of trade is that which is left."

"Protective tariff is a tariff raised to protect the government."

"Clearing house is a store house where goods are disposed of to clean up."

"Farinaceous is fishing in waters not far from the coast where it is not so deep."

"Camphor is made by cutting the camphor tree and making it bleed. Then it is caught in little buckets, boiled and crystalized called camphor gum."

Blasier (giving flowery oration)—"Now then, is there any one in the audience who would like to ask a question?"

Diminutive Freshman—"Yes sir. How soon is the band going to play?"

Pinnock—"Mr. Clark, write the symbol for salt peter."

Johnny Clark wrote—"St. Peter."

Red Hubbard—"How can I change the color of my hair?"

Editor Household Hints—"Shoe blacking is good, Red."

Editor—"Well, how many ads today?"

Adv. Manager—"I got two orders in one place."

Editor—"That's good, what were they?"

Adv. Manager—"One was to get out and the other was to stay out."

When is a joke not a joke?—Usually.

Sanford—"Man sprang from monkey."

Voice aside—"Fisk Bangs forgot to spring."

C. McConnell—"I want to buy a dime's worth of dog meat."

Butcher—"All right; will you have it wrapped up or just eat it here?"

As we were passing down the street the other day, we noticed two Freshies, Harold Davis and Donald Murray, leaving a store.

"O-o-o-o," said Murray, "didja see the money grinder in the store?"

"Aw," said Davis, "ya make me sick. That aint a money grinder, that's a crash radisher."

Asked of G. Waddell—"What course do you expect to graduate in?"

G. W.—"Oh, in course of time."

Kroodsma (Grasping a misbehaving freshman)—"Young man, I think Satan must have a hold on you."

"Pete" Clement (Misbehaving freshman)—"I think so too."

Howard (Latin III.)—"Are you going to have trouble with these questions?"

"Mike" Jones—"Oh, the questions are all right but the answers are what bother me."

Ed Santee (To drug clerk)—"These moth balls you sold me are no good."

Clerk—"Are you sure you have given them a thorough trial?"

Santee—"Why sure, I threw them at one moth for an hour and never touched him."

Stevens—"You may give the principal parts of fail."

C. Dernier—"Flunk, flunkers, faculty fire 'em."

As our new minister was on his way to evening service he met Paul Carrick.

"Good evening my friend," he said solemnly, "do you ever attend a place of worship?"

"Yes indeed sir, regularly every Sunday night," Paul replied, "I'm on my way to see her now."

VanKleek—"America was discovered in 1492 A. D. What does the A. D. mean?"

Shupp—"Why after dark I suppose."

Powers (In geometry)—"Two circles are tangent externally and eternally."

Brilliant Soph—"How did you like the exam?"

Ditto—"Oh I was stuck on it."

Farmer—"Well, did you ever milk before?"

Prindle—(Applying for a job on farm)—"Not exactly, but I've had a good deal of practice with a fountain pen."

"Ye gods and little fishes"—Seniors and Freshmen.

Seniors Toast.

"Here's to Miss Sanford
And we hope she lives,
Even as long
As the lessons she gives."

Have you seen Mott's football mustache? Eleven on a side.

Inquisitive Soph—"Why do you call the Freshies real estate?"

Senior—"Because they are a vacant lot."

Model "C" 2-Ton 4-Wheel Drive Truck

Manufactured by the Duplex Power Car Co., Charlotte, Mich.

THIS cut represents the Duplex 4-Wheel Drive Truck of two ton capacity coming into town from the farm of H. H. Bryan, five miles south of this city, with fourteen tons of sugar beets, besides the weight of the vehicles, aggregating about 20 tons. These loads were drawn on common lumber wagons from the country and were handled with perfect ease by this Duplex 4-Wheel Drive two ton truck.

This truck was taken through the fields and over plowed ground about three-quarters of a mile, where the beets were grown, and loaded to its capacity, and drawn out without difficulty. There is probably no other truck in the United States that could perform this feat. This truck has traction upon all four wheels and it has no equal in strength and general efficiency. It is especially adapted for military as well as commercial purposes. It is made in two and three ton capacity. Fully covered by patents.

This is the Truck the U. S. Government purchased for the Army Signal Corps Division and later placed further orders for the Marine Corps Division. The U. S. Government has just placed the third order for these cars for military purposes.
